SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8.

GRIEF FOR PRESIDENT.

Young Theodore Down With Pneumonia.

Mrs. Roosevelt on Way to His Bedside.

Causes President to Change
Plans Made for His Trip to Charleston.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.
GROTON (Mass.) Feb. 7.—The condition of Theodore Roosevelt Jr., son of President Roosevelt, and a student at Groton School, who fell ill on Friday evening, was reported as 9 o'clock tonight as being "not so good as we had expected." Those who are in attendance at the lad's bedside declined to give anything more definite. It was understood at the school, however, that the patient showed some improvement during the afternoon and early evening.

Tomorrow will find the school practically deserted, for a majority of the students departed for their homes during the afternoon and the rest will leave in the morning.

On receipt of word that Mrs. Roosevelt would come to Ayer from Boston on the first morning train, arrangements were made to meet her at the station. The school is about a half mile from the station.

From sources outside the school, it was learned that President's son caught cold a day or two ago, and that the trouble proved stubborn.

Last evening the symptoms grew more serious and at midnight Dr. Warren, the school physician, was called. Remedies were prescribed at once, and this morning the patient was no worse, and it had been decided to have him sent in time to check the disease. This morning the President was informed of the situation and it was suggested that the lad's mother should come to the school.

This course was decided upon. This afternoon an attempt was made in due President Peabody to talk about the case, but his refusal was as prompt as his arrival was hasty.

"The President," said he, "has two reasons for not wishing me to discuss the case. First, because he coms [sic] to see his son as his most convenient time. He has done this for the oldest newspaper publishers in the National Veterans Association, and a wealthy pioneer resident."

FREDERICK SCHULTZ HANGED.

SAUL STE. MARIE (Ont.) Feb. 7.—Frederick Schultz was hanged here today. One night in August last Schultz and his wife quarreled and after a quarrel with Mrs. Craig, a woman whom he passed as his wife, deliberately shot his wife. He was arrested and after a trial found guilty and sentenced to death. When he was seen Mrs. Craig had also shot and badly wounded her thirteen-year-old daughter.

CHANGING PRESIDENT'S PLANS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The illness of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has changed very greatly the plans of the President for his trip to Charleston to visit the exposition there. The trip possible may have to be abandoned entirely, but the reason given is that the purpose of the trip is to make a visit to the exposition and to return immediately after the most important functions in which the President and the members of the Presidential party to participate. No ladies will accompany the Presidential party, owing to the absence of Mrs. Roosevelt. The President's plan of leaving here Monday night, will not start until Tuesday morning. He will go direct to Charleston, and will take part in the opening of Wednesday, and be present at the banquets and then will return to Washington, reaching here some time Thursday. The Cabinet will remain. It was announced yesterday that the President, Secretary Cortelyou and a stenographer will comprise the party as now arranged.

MRS. ROOSEVELT STARTS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the President, left Washington this afternoon for Groton, Mass., where their son, Theodore, Jr., is lying seriously ill of pneumonia. She is traveling in a drawing-room on the regular train of the Pennsylvania road.

SANDERS'S DIVORCE CASE.

His Wife Gets a Decree of Separation Some Time Ago, but He Prevents Her Remarrying.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Samuel Pearson, late of the Boer army, who has been in this country for a year, engaged in working up sentiment for the Boer cause, has sent a communication to the President, indicating an intention to organize an armed force of Boer sympathizers in New Orleans, to attack the camp established by the British military agent, near that city, whence horses and mules are shipped to South Africa. The President is notified that the letter concerning the proposed attack on the British camp is "a last solemn appeal."

Pearson refers to the decision of the Federal Courts, that only the executive branch of the government has the right and power to stop shipments of animals and munitions of war from the United States to British military forces in South Africa. In view of the decision, he suggests that he be permitted to strike the British camp at Port Chalmers with a force to be assembled at New Orleans, and intimates that he will consider the President's failure to respond to his communication as equivalent to permission to make the attack.

The government is always careful to frustrate any design that may involve it in complications with a foreign power, and the organization of an armed force by Pearson will certainly be followed by interesting developments.

CAR WORKS BURNED.

Two Men Killed and Rock Island Railroad Burns Loss of Quarter of Million Dollars.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.

The fire broke out at 4 o'clock in the morning, and spread rapidly till the employees on the second floor and in Superintendent Studer's office barely escaped, many of the employees being slightly injured. The walls of the car shops fell twenty minutes after the fire was discovered. The loss on the building is $50,000, machinery $100,000.

The fire is still raging in the lumberyard, which contains 5,000,000 feet of lumber.

The building, machinery and material escaped are valued at $2,000,000. The company will rebuild the car shops at once.

CARNegie's EPITAPH.

"Here Lies a Man Who Knew How to Get Around Men Much Cleverer Than Himself."

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.I.
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—In his address at the opening of the Stevenson Institute of Technology in Hoboken, Andrew Carnegie, in accepting a casket containing a piece of the first rail rolled, "To think that my name should figure on the same casket with Robert L. Stevens is an honor beyond all expectation, for among men none of us have been more successful than he in business. That you can count on the fingers of two hands, no list is complete without the name of Robert L. Stevenson."

"I had no inventive mind, simply a firm, determined will, and a strong sense of justice. I am a fit epitaph for me would be, 'Here lies a man who knew how to get around men much cleverer than himself.'

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.
OPHUM SMUGGLER ARRESTED.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The Custom-house officials here have arrested Frank D. Burton on a charge of smuggling. With him was captured a trunk containing seventy-five pounds of opium, worth at least $100,000, which had been shipped from Tasmania to Oakland. The authorities believe that Burton is connected with a gang that for some time has been successfully smuggling opium across the Canadian border.

Burton was captured while in the act of opening the trunk. He claims to have recently arrived from the Klondike, and says he got the trunk for a friend. The duty on the opium seized would amount to $400.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The Merchants' Exchange held a meeting today to take action on resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors, as to an expression toward the renewal of the Chinese exclusion laws by Congress.

The resolution placed before the meeting after a preamble reciting the increasing trade with China, reads as follows:

"Resolved, that we, the board of directors of the Merchants' Exchange, and especially petition the Legislature of the United States and our representatives in Congress, to use their utmost efforts to induce Congress to enact legislation, so as to grant unrestricted entrance into the country to all merchants and members of the mercantile class of Chinese, such as salesmen, buyers, book-keepers, accountants, managers, store-keepers, bankers and carriers."

The question came up on a motion to instruct the delegates elected to the general bimonthly convention to vote for any plan that did not include individual club recognition. The matter was deftly and delicately handled, and on ground that it would be discourteous to California's guests to have delegates pledged to any preconceived action before the assembling of the convention, a vote was taken and the delegates will go uninstructed.

Hill's desperado character was shown when the officers went out to the forest ranch four miles from Williams, to arrest him. Captain Forayte led the party. He was accompanied by L. A. Manor and another man. Hill showed fight, and fired at the arresting party unsuccessfully four times. In return he received two bullet holes in the right jaw, one in the left elbow, another which shattered the fingers of his right hand, and the last and the most serious, a bullet through his heart, penetrated the left groin. After the fingers of his right hand were disabled by a bullet he attempted to work his gun with his left hand.

Hill's last words were: "I am sent to poison from Lassen County for stage robbery and to San Joaquin for grand larceny. He shot me, I was seriously wounded, and was so badly wounded by the Sheriff at that time it was thought he would die."

He died at 10 o'clock last night. It seemed to be in a very feeble condition, and was unable to walk to the station.

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES!

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Mrs. Caroline Cogswell widow of the late Dr. Henry Cogswell, died yesterday, leaving a will containing many bequests to eastern relatives. Methodist Church, $500; for town stock; to college for education of Methodist ministers at Evanston, Ill., $1000.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 7.—In the Supreme Court, Justice Martin has decided adversely the motion made by the White Pass and Yukon Railway to dismiss test cases in the suits brought by claimants who seek to recover enormous sums from the railway-company. Exorbitant freight rates in the absence of legal authority for such charges are the grounds upon which the suit was based.

To begin with, sixty-five skilled workmen will be brought out from the East, but later 100 men will be engaged all of the time, and the pay roll will be about $100,000 a season, which extends from October 15 to May 15. It is the intention of the company to supply not only the demand in the West, but in all of the new island possessions of Uncle Sam. All of the material will be secured from the pits of the Tesla Company, near that town.

Hurrie who is a practical glass man, will have his hands full. He says that the clay and sand are very fine and will make splendid window glass.

LAWYER KNOCKED OUT.

VIOLATION OF CONSTITUTION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.I.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The Supreme Court today handed down a decision that materially curtails the authority of State Labor Commissioner, in that he does not constitutionally affect the labor laws passed by the Legislature in February, 1889, regulating the sanitary condition of workshops.

In summing up, the court decides:

"The manifest objection to the law is that upon the construction here has been placed upon it that it is not the duty to enforce a law of the Legislature, but the power to make a law for the individual, and to enforce such rules of conduct as he may prescribe. It is thus arbitrary, capricious and violative of the Constitution."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Five members of the Water Commission qualified yesterday. Herman Silver will probably qualify today. James C. Kays is adverse to taking the appointment. The board has decided not to organize until the full number has been sworn in.

On Saturday the plan of the Texas and California Asphalt and Refining Company, which has asked for a permit to maintain a boiler on its property in the Arroyo Seco bed. The Fire Commission will inspect the site today.

Yesterday the Water Supply and Finance Committee of the Council gave a hearing to the representatives of the Highland Water Company.

Charles Myrtle and Frank Case, highway robbers, were given life imprisonment in Folsom by Judge Smith yesterday. They pleaded guilty, but that did not save them.

Attorney Hanson, Waldron's bedfellow, tried to hurry up Judge Shaw yesterday in the conclusion of a case, but did not succeed.

The widow of the late Don Juan Porter brought suit yesterday to quiet her title to the vast estates of her late husband.

John Smith maintained the validity of the milk ordinance yesterday.

Judge Allen told Ulysses G. Pierce of the Westminster Hotel that he would have to support his wife pending the trial of his divorce suit against her, even though she was able to earn her own living.

A man boasting "Cloudy Morning" for a given name was registered by the County Clerk yesterday.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIVE COMMISSIONERS QUALIFIED YESTERDAY.

HERMAN SILVER MAY TAKE THE OATH TODAY.

Grand Rush of Place Hunters for the Position Which James C. Kays Threatens to Vacate—Board Will no Organize Until All Have Qualified.

When the City Clerk's office closed last night five of the Water Commissioners, chosen by the Council, had qualified. They are: Maj. H. T. Lee, Frank W. King, Charles H. Toll, L. A. Grant and J. M. Elliott. In all probability Herman Silver will take the oath of office this morning. James C. Kays was still inclined to refuse the appointment, however, but strong influence was brought to bear to make him change his mind.

There were indications of a storm early yesterday morning, as it was feared that the action of Mr. Kays would lead others to refuse appointment. At noon none of the commissioners had qualified. When the word was passed down the line that there were "prominent" citizens who were willing to sacrifice themselves on the altar of public service, began to besiege the Councilmen. These place hunters advanced the specious argument that the Council had done nothing in its obligation to the Chamber of Commerce in bringing seven men from the list prepared by that body, and that the legislators should feel perfectly free to recognize their friends. If there was a vacancy in the board they wanted to be remembered. At noon Councilman Bowen said:

"We are certainly an ambitious people. During the last four hours I have been compelled to talk to many men who have come to me, according to their own estimate, to manage the water plant than I had supposed lived in this city. I have literally been to hell and back and I am frantic. There was enough good material in that list of twenty-one names to make two splendid commissions, and if it had not been for the fact that every appointee shall come from the list, it is most amazing what pressure there is to secure places on the commission. We must abandon its declaration, and sleep to place a small man on the water board—a man who is seeking the position for the sake of the position. It would detract 20 per cent from the good impression created by the selection of the original seven men."

Ever, Councilman, who would have occurred had the Council named a commission on its own initiative. The sensations were not pleasant to some, and it was evident that Mr. Kays had agreed to choose every member of the first water board from the Chamber of Commerce list.

Shortly after noon hour, Maj. Lee, Charles H. Toll and Frank King qualified, and this good beginning relieved the Councilmen anxiety considerably. At 4 o'clock, L. A. Grant described his name in the register of official oaths. As president of the First National Bank, Mr. Elliott declined to act as official witness and deferred with the directors of the institution. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the desired personnel were present.

It is probable that the board will not organize until next Tuesday. If Mr. Kays finally refused to accept the appointment, it will be left to the Council to decide in what manner to proceed. The original ordinance, Maj. Lee stated last night that the board will not be organized until the entire number has qualified.

That Herman Silver will accept the appointment and be chosen chairman of the board is almost certain. Last night while some had returned to again enter active public life, the former president of the Council deems it every man's duty to accept positions when he is chosen from the scheme of the original ordinance. Maj. Lee stated last night that the board will not be organized until the entire number has qualified.

Kays thought the plant should be managed by a superintendent, engineer and auditor, to be named by the Mayor and Council. In this he was right. Heive the appointive scheme far ahead of the elective plan, provided the charter made it possible to name men for long terms. All the officers named by the Mayor would hold for many years, and there would be a scramble to get the positions with every change of administration.

The only way to keep the water department out of politics, is to make the commission honorary in character, and a Councilman yesterday.

If the members of the Council try to get the position which Mr. Kays threatens to vacate is any indication, this Councilman has shown somewhat of a lack of judgment. The Council will consider a reasonable equivalent for the plant. If the company and the city cannot agree on the purchase price, the Council will institute condemnation proceedings.

When the election for the issuance of $2,000,000 water bonds for the acquisition of the water system of the Los Angeles City Water Company was held last August, the Council had a sample of Highland Park assurance that they would not oppose the bonds if they were taken to purchase the plant. Every Councilman who presided over the election of the City Water System Bonds for the purchase of the water system of the Los Angeles City Water Company is opposed to the best interests of the city, by supposing the arguments of the Council.

Some of the Councilmen are desirous that Superintendent Mathews and the city water plant shall also make a valuation of the company's holdings, and may be asked to cooperate with the City Engineer.

John Holland is an expert in such matters, and his opinions would have great weight with the Council.

Members of the Water Supply Committee stated yesterday that the erection of such a plant was a definite hindrance to the establishment of manufacturing plants in the neighborhood, and the possibility of a depreciation of property values in a small portion of the Los Angeles River and is opposed to the best interests of the city, by supposing the arguments of the Council.

Trial of the Fire Commission yesterday morning a number of people residing on Avenues 19, 20 and 21, and the Arroyo Seco appeared to get a hearing. The council has appointed a Committee to Charles B. Thompson, Esq., to get an amendment to the existing relief bill in an amendment to the water system of the Los Angeles City Water Company, and they are getting valuable pointers just now on framing a section for the management of the municipal water system.

other meeting of the joint committee will be held to formulate a report to the Council.

Almost every member of the Council is in favor of the purchase of the Highland system if it can be secured at what seems to be a fair price. Until the valuations have been made by the Council and the City Engineer it can not be determined whether the Council will consider a reasonable equivalent for the plant. If the company and the city cannot agree on the purchase price, the Council will institute condemnation proceedings.

Trial of the Fire Commission yesterday morning a number of people residing on Avenues 19, 20 and 21, and the Arroyo Seco appeared to get a hearing. The council has appointed a Committee to Charles B. ten years, as he did on Tuesday when he pleaded guilty.

Case had no reply to make when the court gave him life, ten years.

The court spent time in handing the two prisoners and getting them back to the County Jail.

Kelly, whose lot it was to stand trial, will have his case set down on Monday, and the trial will be delayed until Friday. Thompson, Esq., made it impossible to do so yesterday. Myrtle and Case will be taken north today under special guard.

"I don't care a snap about my own case," said Myrtle yesterday. "A life sentence is all right for me, because if I ever got out again I should soon be upon the road again. But I'm awfully glad to get out of here." The court adjourned the revolver, while Kelly is supposed to have been the "Bubler" or pocket searcher.

"Never try to hold up a Chinaman or a negro," said Myrtle to the sheriff the other day. "A Chinaman will always shout at the top of his voice, and a negro will dog your steps for months."

It was proposed to keep Myrtle and Case in the county jail until the trial of the two men in the case of the shooting of the Chinaman in the Chinatown.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1902.

CALLING DAY IN TEA-CADDY TOWN.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR to you, exalted friends. I will overflow with joy if you will consent to enter my unbroken abode and sup of my poor tea.

"A far more prosperous one to your ten thousand times more exalted friend. We will honor ourselves without cause by entering your noble abode, and supping of your aromatic tea."

Today was reception day in Chinatown—the annual period of rigid etiquette, calls, and flowery speech.

All debts were paid or canceled; and, in purple and fine silk, each family called on the neighbors and exchanged politie compliments.

Hospitality was denied to none,

Genial Teo Far Low, proprietor of the big restaurant on the corner of Alpabia and Alameda streets, where, it is said, 200 meals a night are served to foreign devils alone, received in the midst of the gorgeous settings of his banquet-room and dispensed tea withal.

Many gorged Chinese have set themselves out as their own stock in trade, despite the holy day, and daked their funny little selves to kodaken at 5 cents a sitting. They made money.

Sightseers visited the festive district in carriages, automobiles and electric trolley. It is a ridiculous sight to see these little human beings scurrying through the mud of Chinatown through the narrow places and almost overlooking some of the nodes. Chinese boy took kindly to the horseless carriage, however, and invitation of the occupants of the vehicle, a crew of them—each a bright fragment of color in his gorgous silk suit—climbed up the wheels and enjoyed a ride.

It is a difficult matter to obtain a photograph of a Chinaman's New Year shrine and his offering to the powers that be.

It was under the guidance of W. K. Yee, the little Chinese photographer, that the accompanying interior views were obtained by The Times artist. John C. H. Johnson, who was of many his New Year's offering—one is to a grotesque picture of Joss, and the other to the writings signs of a poet.

The future is uncertain, but after a short time behind the offering shows extracts from the poetical works of Wan Ki Shuck (according to sound, no Chinese encyclopedia being at hand.) a well-known Chinese Kowloon poet, who, it is said, is present passing his last days in Southern China. The characters on the tapestry are symbolic, and the artist has been unable to translate their fantastic meaning into the prosy tongue of the "Mei-lin man."

It is said that this literary arrangement of the shrine is more expensive than the old Korean custom of having a copy-right on his lines—and is considered more elegant. But many of the tapestries bearing the picture of Joss are very rich and far more worthy, to the eyes, than the dainties that are strewn before them.

Today everybody in Chinatown is expected to stay at home and prepare to open up for the New Year's business.

Thrilled the "Eagle."

John J. Newell, colored editor and politician, appeared at the Palmer Station last night with tears in his eyes. There was cause for tears, for he had been the victim of a foul plot on the part of some enemy. Neimire is the author of the plot, and he has voted to the interests of the colored race in this part of the country and incidentally devoted to Neimire political fortunes. It is due to appear today, but may not speak until early next week, while passing Somechino No. 245 East Fifth street, last night noticed a small pushcart containing a number of oranges and stole all of it. ALMOST A PANIC.

Fire Destroys Sanford Building, Chicago, and Causes Great Excitement Among Neighboring Occupants.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I. CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Fire that destroyed the Sanford building, No. 38 Randolph street, today, almost caused panic among the tenants of the two-story building, which adjoins the burned structure, and among the employees of the cloak factory of Marshall Field & Co.

The fire started in the paint store of the George E. Watson Company, which occupied the first two floors, and destroyed the stock of George Rosch & Co., picture frame manufacturer, the three upper floors. So rapid was the spread of the flames and so dense the smoke that occupants of the neighboring buildings fled hurriedly to the street.

In the fire, 150 persons, several hundred pupils of the Chicago Business College marched out in good order. One woman, almost suffocated, was carried out by firemen, but soon revived. Seven others were among those partially buried in the fire, frightened spectators, and several firemen were hurt by falling bricks. No serious accidents were reported. The damage to the building and stock was about $60,000.

SAFETY TRUST LOSSES.

Must Go to Trial on Charge of Violating State Law and Attempting to Wreck Competitors.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I. CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Judge Stone of the Common Pleas Court handed down a decision today in the legal controversy between the National Salt Company and the United States Salt Company, dismissing the demurrer of the United States Company, and the case will probably now be tried on the original issues, in which the laws governing the safety trust losses.

The National Salt Company brought suit against the United States Company, claiming that it was a trust in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, and that it had attempted to wreck the National Salt Company by trying to get hold of its plant for the purpose of stopping its further production, and thus driving its competitor, the United States Company demurred to the petition, claiming, among other things, that the Valentine law was unconstitutional, and that the facts set forth in the petition of the plaintiff were not specific.

Catarrh

Catarrh is a dreadful disease that comes sneaking along for years, gradually growing worse and worse—gradually spreading from the nasal cavity to the throat; to the bronchial tubes and on to the lungs, spreading over the delicate network of membranes—causing a vile and poisonous discharge, a discharge that is filthy and foul-smelling.

Often this discharge is not coughed or hawked up, but slides down to the stomach where it upsets the digestive organs and causes all sorts of disturbance—finally getting into the blood and weakening and impoverishing it.

Catarrh is a long story, full of troubles and misery until it finally strips the whole system and eventually destroys it.

A cold in the head is generally the beginning of catarrh, and chronic catarrh is a difficult disease to cure.

Halpruner's will check a cold at once—Halpruner's is fine for colds—it knocks out a cold in a few hours—it just drives it right out of the system and gives you quick and satisfactory relief.

To stop your cold with Halpruner's take it internally to remove the cause and spray the medicine, diluted with water, up the nostrils to clean out mucous and phlegm and allay the inflammation and soothe the soreness.

Keep up this treatment conscientiously and regularly and your cold will gradually disappear.

Do not get discouraged if you are not cured in a day or a week. Remember this—you have had catarrh for many years and it has a strong hold on your system and you must not expect to get rid of it at once. But keep up the treatment and you will cure yourself entirely.

Halpruner's

All druggists should sell Halpruner's—if yours refuses to supply you a large bottle by prepaid express on receipt of $1.00.

Helen Duke, Society Bud, Wedded to Herbert Barker, Throop Student.

THEY'LL ALL BE AFTER IT.

Wednesday morning Misses Duke and Senter, by previous arrangement, joined Barker and his school chum, James Tweedy, the latter taking Miss Barker to a room in the home of Miss Duke and Barker occurred a similar encounter, this time, however, love will out, and it became known yesterday that the pretty daughter of J. E. Duke, proprietor of the Westlake Hotel in this city, was married January 29 under most romantic circumstances to Herbert "Karl" Barker, a student at Throop Institute, who lives with his grandfather, Mr. James Barker, on North Los Robles Avenue, Pasadena.

Helen Duke's mother and father are Southerners born and bred, having come to California fourteen years ago from Memphis, Tenn., and Helen, who was born in Kentucky, has the inherent beauty and dash of the typical Southern girl. United with that beauty is a love of romantic adventure, which she often had preferred to the close friends, remarking on different occasions that she would "do something startling some day."

Notwithstanding this warning, however, she surprised her friends and family by marrying the young man, who is taking a course in mining engineering at Pasadena's polytechnic school.

Added to her attractive appearance the young lady possesses qualities of mind and heart that have made her one of the most popular in her set, and whose company was sought by young gallants, whose hearts beat to the pulse of chivalry. All seemed to share alike in her attraction, and it was not surprising that the young couple were among the galaxy of admirers. Even to her girl friends "Nell" Duke, her father's idol, never expressed any preference for any one of her attractive male admirers, and with the subject of matrimony was broached she always said, "Not L."

On the 22nd of last month a young man, identified only as Mr. Northrop, a justice of the peace, at Alhambra, and, on presenting the marriage license, was married. Barker and Helen, who were merely without delay and with no ado, although this interruption naturally consumed some necessary time and retarded the young couple, met Mr. and Mrs. Northrop in their apartment with their bemused companions, waiting in the chill air at a country road corner. When the belated pair arrived they were met with various remarks, which included references to "taking the long road around," and various other jibes, but they were imperturbable, and likewise non-committal as to the reason for their delay, and the little party made its way to Pasadena, where the remark was dropped that it would arouse the suspicions of Miss Senter and her escort.

Miss Duke remained Wednesday afternoon, staying with her father. Explanations were made; the father's heart melted in forgiveness of the daughter whom he loved; the usual parental bleeding was forthcoming, and the bride and groom were given a day to make their home under the family roof.

Barker, however, attended school at Pasadena, staying with his grandfather, and the next day returned to her home at the Westlake Hotel, since which time it is said she has seen her husband but once, that being last Monday evening. When he called and made a brief visit.

The denouement of the romantic episode came yesterday, when Miss Duke's aunt, unable to get a satisfactory marriage license, went to Pasadena and, calling Barker from his class at Throop, asked him point blank if he and Miss Duke were married. Barker found himself in a dilemma, but decided to give an answer until he could consult with his bride, and in an effort to straighten out the tangle accompanied Miss Woodson to Los Angeles. On the way the young lady's home she was interrupted at the residence of her parents, and the two young people were numerous visitors, among whom was the young man who had been to the Duke's summer home, and the various snubs that Cupid lays for impressionable souls. The acquaintance was renewed last summer, since which time the death of his parents has lived with his grandmother, N. W. Bell, a Los Angeles attorney, whose home is in Pasadena, has acted as his guardian, the young man having been left to the estate of considerable size.

Barker and Miss Duke drove with all haste to the office of William M. Northrop, a justice of the peace, at Alhambra, and, on presenting the marriage license, were married without ceremony, without delay and with no ado, although this interruption naturally consumed some necessary time and retarded the young couple, met Mr. and Mrs. Northrop in their apartment with their bemused companions, waiting in the chill air at a country road corner. Archer, in a plan to guarantee holders of national bonds against loss, says that from the establishment of the present national bank to 1890, a period of thirty-six years, banks failed, and that owing to creditors of all these was less than $15,000,000. He says that the percentage of loss to bank deposits each year is only average of one-twenty-fifth of 1 per cent. He explains that while the banks shall deposit the Fidelity Association 2 per cent of their deposits, this is an act of precaution that may not be deemed necessary.

He suggests that the immense sum of this is largely invested by the nation in approved government and municipal bonds, for the sum of the banks contributing it, so the money would not be allowed to stand idle.
